Art Unit: 1648

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 2, 3 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention for reasons of record.

Applicants' arguments filed March 25, 2002 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicants essentially assert that the outstanding rejection is without merit since claims 1-3 and 5 do not recite a sequence. Moreover, it is asserted that a sequence is not required because RhoA is well known.

The examiner suggests that applicants' conclusions are incorrect since all sequence information, whether claimed or not, that meets the length thresholds in 37 CFR 1.821(a) is subject to the rules. The goal of the Office is to build a comprehensive database that can be used for, inter alia, the purpose of assessing the prior art. It is therefore essential that all sequence information, whether only disclosed or also claimed, be included in the database. In those instances in which prior art sequences are only referred to in a given application by name and a publication or accession reference, they need not be included as part of the "Sequence Listing," unless an examiner considers the referred- to sequence to be "essential material," per MPEP § 608.01(p). However, if the applicant presents the sequence as a string of particular bases or amino acids, it is necessary to include the sequence in the "Sequence Listing," regardless of whether the applicant considers the sequence to be prior art. In general, any sequence that is disclosed and/or claimed as a sequence, i.e., as a string of particular bases or amino acids, and that otherwise meets the criteria of 37 CFR 1.821(a), must be set forth in the "Sequence Listing." Again, the strings of amino acids as set forth by claims 2, 3 and 5 are considered to be essential to the invention since they are recited in the claims.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
